Looking for delicious burritos?

My husband and I are from California, and we miss the food from home so much. If you're familiar with Chipotle (basically Subway for burritos), we used to eat there weekly. Since we moved to Okinawa, we hadn't been able to find a restaurant that could fill our burrito void...until we found Guacamole.

On October 6th, my husband and I went to Torii Beach for Rocktoberfest (mainly to scope out the food). Right when we saw the glorious burritos coming from this truck, we had to have one. It was absolutely delicious, and reminded me of home so much. It's now October 16th, and we've already been to this food truck a total of three times. Every time has been delicious, and the service is great (and English speaking). I believe the owner has already memorized our names! Upon speaking to him, we learned that he went to school in California, and actually based his recipes off of the burritos that he had in San Diego!

I know you're probably excited now, so I'll get to the details. It's called Guacamole and it's in the ETWS parking lot. Coming from Kadena, it will be south Toward Foster on 58. Turn right on 130. At the end of the street, the building to your slight right is the ETWS building, and you will see the Guacamole food truck there. The selection isn't huge, it's mostly about the burritos, but he does also make quesadillas. He usually has a few tables set up, but he does make food to-go.
